WIRELESS TELEGRAPHY.

First System Is to Be Established in Alaska.

Washington, May 7.—The first movement towards the adoption of a system of wireless telegraphy by the United States government for communication between fixed bases was made during the day, when General Greeley, chief signal officer, opened bids for the supply of such systems for service in Alaska where the ordinary cables fall in important points owing to climatic conditions. The principal connection wanted was across the water of Norton sound, connecting Fort Davis, Cape Nome, with Saint Michael, either by one circuit or by a relay on Stuart island.

The Brooklyn Going to Havana.

Washington, May 7.—Secretary Moody has decided to send the armored cruiser Brooklyn to Havana to fetch General Leonard Wood and his staff here on May 20, after the government is turned over to the new Cuban republic. The ship is sent as a mark of respect towards the new nation.

Discussed Cuban Inauguration.

Washington, May 7.—The inauguration of the Cuban republic on the 20th inst. was one of the subjects of consideration by the cabinet at the day's session. Secretary Root has received a cable from Governor General Wood giving a brief account of the assembling of the Cuban congress and of his address to it.

Porto Rican Public Lands.

Washington, May 7.—A bill giving to Porto Rico all public lands except those required by the United States for naval and military purposes has been ordered favorably reported from the house committee on insular affairs.

ST. PAUL CITY ELECTION.

Democrats Win a Sweeping Victory Over Republicans.

St. Paul, May 7.—The returns on the head of the municipal ticket show Mayor Smith re-elected by a plurality of 2,000, and from partial returns on the remainder of the ticket the Democratic city and county committee claim the election of the entire city ticket, including the judges of the municipal court.

The same returns show the election of a Democratic assembly and the election of all the Democratic aldermen with the possible exception of Alderman Bantz of the Eighth ward, who is in doubt. This gives the Democrats at least seven and probably eight members of the board of aldermen, the absolute control of the city government and the selection of the city clerk and corporation attorney.

PEACE RE-ESTABLISHED.

Dominican Government Forces Continuing Terms of Surrender.

Monte Christo, Santo Domingo, May 7.—News has reached here from Santo Domingo city that the provisional government established by Horatio Vasquez will continue in power until elections are held. Vasquez was formerly vice president of the Dominican republic. He led a successful revolution against President Jimenez and the forces under his command took possession of Santo Domingo city last week, after the capital of the Dominican republic had capitulated.

Peace has been fully re-established in the southern part of the republic. An order for the suspension of hostilities between the revolutionary and government forces has just been signed and terms of surrender are to be discussed.

BREATHES HIS LAST IN WASHINGTON.

UNCONSCIOUS FOR DAYS

Immediate Cause of His Demise Was a Severe Cerebral Hemorrhage, From Which He Never Rallied—Mrs. Sampson Breaks Down and Is Very Ill Under the Strain—Funeral Arrangements Not Yet Complete.

Washington, May 7.—Rear Admiral William T. Sampson, retired, died at his home in this city at 5 o'clock p. m. The immediate cause of death was a severe cerebral hemorrhage. He had been in a semi-conscious state for several days and in the forenoon suffered a severe cerebral hemorrhage. At the bedside when the admiral breathed his last were Mrs. Sampson, Mrs. Lieutenant Culverius, the admiral's married daughter; Admiral Sampson's two young sons, Ralph and Harold Sampson; Dr. Dixon, the attending physician, and the nurses and attendants. Mrs. Sampson had broken down under the strain and was very ill all during the day. But for the critical condition of the admiral she would have been confined to her bed.

The arrangements for the funeral of Admiral Sampson are not yet completed. It has been suggested to Mrs. Sampson that the naval cemetery at Annapolis would be a proper place for the last resting place of the remains, while other friends have represented to her that he should be buried in Arlington cemetery, near this city. Admiral Sampson resided at Annapolis eight years, during four years of which he was superintendent of the academy there. Mrs. Sampson prefers Annapolis. The pallbearers have not yet been selected, but they will include among them the captains of the ships of the fleet which engaged in the Santiago campaign.

Mrs. Sampson suffered a slight attack four days ago while attending to the wants of the admiral, and has been in bed since. She probably will not be able to attend the funeral services.

A number of telegrams and messages of condolence have been received at the house, among them one from Secretary Moody.

The death of Admiral Sampson, occurred late in the day and there has been no opportunity for any action by the naval department for participation in the funeral services. Suitable representation will be made, however, including a detachment of marines and bluejackets.

SERVED IN ALL BRANCHES.

Rear Admiral Sampson Has a Long Naval Record.

Rear Admiral William Thompson Sampson was born at Palmyra, N. Y., Feb. 9, 1840. His boyhood was divided between day labor and studies in the public schools until 1857, when he was appointed to the naval academy. Three years later he graduated at the head of his class. In 1862 Sampson was commissioned lieutenant and was executive officer of the ironclad Patapsco when it was blown up in Charleston harbor in the Civil war. He was promoted to the various grades between that and 1889, and was superintendent of the naval academy from 1886 until 1890.

Admiral Sampson served in all the branches of the naval service, and was an expert on ordnance, torpedoes, etc. With Lieutenant Joseph Strauss he devised the superposed double deck turrets recently introduced in the navy. In February, 1898, he was president of the board that investigated the battleship Maine explosion in Havana harbor.

After the declaration of war with Spain, Sampson, with the title of acting rear admiral, commanded the North Atlantic squadron and was afterwards in supreme command of the naval forces that ended the war with the battle of Santiago. In September, 1898, he was promoted to rear admiral. He married Miss Susan Elizabeth Burling in 1882, and leaves two sons and a daughter.

MISSOURI BEEF INQUIRY.

Packing House Officials Represented Only by Attorneys.

Jefferson City, Mo., May 7.—None of the wholesale packing houses in St. Louis, St. Joseph and Kansas City appeared before Judge Burgess of the supreme court in the inquiry begun by Attorney General E. C. Crowe into the alleged beef trust. Charles B. Armour and Kirkland B. Armour of Kansas City and O. Walter of St. Joseph, the last named an agent for Swift & Co., were represented by Attorneys Frank Hagerman and Alexander New.

In the absence of the big packers, St. Joseph retail butchers, some of them former managers and salesmen for Armour, Swift, Nelson Morris, Cudahy and Hammond, told of trust methods at St. Joseph.

The testimony at the morning session was to the effect that damaged and partly spoiled meat is sold to the butchers at a reduced price for sale to restaurants and boarding houses, after a concession had been granted to the wholesale houses by the arbitrator representing the firms; that an arbitrator fixes the price of meat for all the packers and imposes fines, and that rebates are paid retailers by the packers.

NEGRO LAWLESSNESS.

Young Woman Assaulted and Her Escort Murdered.

Connellsville, Pa., May 7.—Negro lawlessness in the coke regions has reached a sensational climax at Dunbar, where John A. Callahan, a prominent young man of that place, aged 22 years, has been killed, and Myrtle Stevens, his companion, assaulted by two negroes supposed to be James Finney and James Washington. Terrified at the killing of her companion, the Stevens girl fled to her home after she had been released by her assailants and did not report the crime. The body of Callahan was found in a field. Two hours later Finney and Washington were arrested.

Callahan was walking with the Stevens girl and they were followed by the two negroes, who tried to forcibly take the girl from Callahan. In the scuffle with the negroes Callahan was shot through the heart. The Stevens girl is in a serious condition from shock and fright.

LYNCHING AVERTED.

Larimore (N. D.) Chief of Police Stands Off a Mob.

Larimore, N. D., May 6.—George Welsh of West Superior, Wis., was arrested charged with cutting Edward Burke with a razor. Welsh had stolen a lamp from the caboose occupied by Burke. Burke went over to the other caboose, where Welsh had the lamp, to get it, but Welsh refused to give it up.

Burke insisted and endeavored to take possession of the property by force, whereupon Welsh cut Burke quite severely in the small of the back. About 150 brother laborers of Burke tried to hang Welsh, but he escaped by taking refuge in another car, which was surrounded by the extra gang, who endeavored to batter in the doors. Chief of Police Edwards hastened to the scene and single handed stood off the gang of men, landing the prisoner in jail.

RESTORE FORMER CHARGES.

Freight Rates on Dressed Beef and Live Stock to Be Advanced.

Chicago, May 7.—Freight rates on dressed beef and on live beeves from Missouri river points are to be restored after July 1 to what they were prior to June 30, 1901. This will mean an advance on each class of freight of about 5 cents. The meeting of the executive officers of the Western roads had the matter under consideration and the result was the agreement to restore former charges.

The trouble over the rates on beef from the Missouri river to Chicago and the seaboard has been one of long standing. The restoration will affect the live stock shipped to the Chicago yards from the ranges west of the river and also the products of the packing houses situated on the river.

NORTH DAKOTANS BARRED.

Twelve Intercollegiate Athletic Entries Thrown Out at Chicago.

Chicago, May 7.—Twelve entries received from the University of North Dakota were declared ineligible and thrown out of the "Big Nine" meet to be held at Marshall field May 31, at the meeting of the managing committee of the Intercollegiate Athletic association.

Applications and entries for the meet were sent by the Universities of North and South Dakota and Notre Dame and Beloit and Knox colleges. With the exception of North Dakota and one or two members of the other institutions all the athletes entered by the schools were allowed to compete. The managing committee declared the North Dakota men ineligible because nothing is known of the men or their standing in athletics.

President Loubet May Honor Admiral Dewey and General Miles.

Washington, May 7.—The published statement that the president had made objections to the declared purpose of the French government to bestow the decoration of the Legion of Honor upon Admiral Dewey and General Miles is authoritatively denied at the White House. It is stated that the question of the bestowal of decorations upon Admiral Dewey and General Miles was never discussed by the president with any one, and that he had not the least objection to such action by President Loubet on the occasion of the unveiling of the Rochambeau statue if he so desires.

Physicians in Constant Attendance.

The Hague, May 7.—Advices received here from Castle Loo dated 1 a. m., declare that Queen Wilhelmina's condition again excites grave anxiety. Another consultation of the queen's doctors was held at 11 o'clock. The result of this consultation is not known. Extreme secrecy is maintained as to the contents of the telegrams dispatched from Loo palace. This and other measures are believed to indicate that the condition of her majesty is much graver than appears from the official bulletins. It is said the queen is so weak that she has been unable to take any nourishment since last Saturday.

Dr. Roessingh never leaves her majesty's bedside except for a brief and much needed rest, when he is always replaced by Dr. Pot. After the consultation Professor Rosensteln was summoned to the palace. He was consulted before the operation of last Sunday. A special government wire has been established between Loo palace and The Hague, and Dr. Kuyper, the Dutch premier, is informed every half hour of the progress of the royal patient.

The queen mother and the prince consort remain continually at her majesty's bedside. Dr. Roessingh very carefully dictates whatever news concerning Queen Wilhelmina's condition is issued from the palace, and he declines to say anything further concerning his patient. It is understood that although the official bulletins represent the queen's temperature as normal, it invariably rises towards midnight, and that never for a moment since last Saturday has there been a cessation of anxiety.

DEATH OF BRET HARTE.

American Author Passes Away at Camberly, Eng.

London, May 7.—F. Bret Harte, the American author, died during the night. He was born at Albany, N. Y., Aug. 25, 1839.

Mr. Harte died suddenly at the Red House, Camberly, near Aldershot, from hemorrhage, caused by an affection of the throat.

Mr. Harte had been living quietly in England for years. Most of his time was spent in the country, and when in London he was almost equally secluded, having few visitors to his rooms at Lancaster Gate and only going to the houses of a limited number of very intimate friends.

The remains will be buried Thursday at Primley, in Surrey.

Deep sorrow at his loss and admiration for his work are expressed in the lengthy obituary notices, the sketches of his life and the editorial articles upon his death which are published in the London papers. Regarding Bret Harte's place in the literary world, he is variously compared to Dickens, Stevenson and Kipling.

ST. PAUL CITY ELECTION.

Democrats Win a Sweeping Victory Over Republicans.

St. Paul, May 7.—The returns on the head of the municipal ticket show Mayor Smith re-elected by a plurality of 2,000, and from partial returns on the remainder of the ticket the Democratic city and county committee claim the election of the entire city ticket, including the judges of the municipal court.

The same returns show the election of a Democratic assembly and the election of all the Democratic aldermen with the possible exception of Alderman Bantz of the Eighth ward, who is in doubt. This gives the Democrats at least seven and probably eight members of the board of aldermen, the absolute control of the city government and the selection of the city clerk and corporation attorney.

PEACE RE-ESTABLISHED.

Dominican Government Forces Considering Terms of Surrender.

Monte Christo, Santo Domingo, May 7.—News has reached here from Santo Domingo city that the provisional government established by Horatio Vasquez will continue in power until elections are held. Vasquez was formerly vice president of the Dominican republic. He led a successful revolution against President Jimenez and the forces under his command took possession of Santo Domingo city last week, after the capital of the Dominican republic had capitulated.

Peace has been fully re-established in the southern part of the republic. An order for the suspension of hostilities between the revolutionary and government forces has just been signed and terms of surrender are to be discussed.

Weather.

Fair to-night and Thursday.

The democrats scored a victory in St. Paul yesterday and Robert A. Smith is still mayor.

A REPORT is current that the widow of the late Senator C. K. Davis will soon marry Don Abazans, a former Spanish minister.

The Minneapolis Journal "hears" that Dr. Werner Hemstead may take the democratic senatorial nomination in the Morrison-Crow Wing district.

The republican state central committee will meet in St. Paul Thursday, for the purpose of calling the state convention to nominate a state ticket.

CASS LAKE squatters who failed to take advantage of the opportunity to obtain a legal residence must move on. The eviction order on section 16 will be very soon put in force.

J. ADAM BEDE is making hay while the Duluth politicians are casting around for a candidate for congress to their liking. Up to the present writing, J. Adam is the only candidate in the Eighth district.

LOOKS LIKE A STRIKE.

Now Believed the Anthracite Miners Will Quit Work.

Scranton, Pa., May 7.—Hope ran high here that the impending miners' strike would be averted, but it almost completely fled when President Mitchell arrived at 11:30 o'clock from New York and positively and unequivocally declared that he had no communication of any kind with operators or the Civic Federation, or anyone representing either since the answer of the operators was received last Saturday, and that he knew of nothing that could give ground for the rumor that peace was assured. He even went so far as to declare that the only reliable knowledge he had that the presidents of the coal roads had held a meeting was gained from the Associated Press bulletin which was shown him.

Mr. Mitchell would not discuss the situation or the possibility of intervention. When asked if he would have a statement to give out he replied that the chances were that nothing would be given out until the convention adjourned and die.

District Presidents Nichols, Duffy and Fahey and all the other local mine workers' officials are here. They seem to be completely in the dark as to what is to be done and look to President Mitchell for a way of meeting the emergency.

MEETS FINAL DEFEAT.

Proposition to Admit Colored Women's Clubs Fails.

Los Angeles, Cal., May 7.—Massachusetts club women saw all their pet plans for which they have been fighting for two years go down before the vote of the women's convention. The final defeat was given to the admission of colored women's clubs, the effort being made to down the individual club as a step toward reorganization through state federations only failed, and the plan to reduce the per capita tax from 10 to 5 cents was snowed under. The dispatch with which the three issues were defeated, in the midst of intense excitement on both sides, is a matter of surprise, even to the delegates who assisted in the result.

While Massachusetts is sorrowful there is no element of bitterness in the defeat and the union of the South and the North, as far as the women's clubs are concerned, promises to be cemented for some time.

The nominating committee, after five hours' secret session, decided to place one ticket before the women's convention, headed by Mrs. Denison of New York for president.

MOROS MAKE A RUSH.

Many Killed in an Attempt to Break Through American Lines.

Washington, May 7.—The war department has received the following cablegram from General Chaffee at Manila:

"General George W. Davis reports Saturday 1 p. m., May 3, prisoners that had been disarmed sitting on open hilltop and surrounded by strong guard, and a concerted signal, sprang to their feet and rushed down the hill. Several endeavored to seize rifles from guards, and one succeeded while soldier was drinking from canteen. Direction of the flight such as to bring them to the rear of the company so that firing upon the Moros would endanger our men. Guard and one company opened fire without orders, killing 35. Nine were recaptured, and the others escaped. Regret this accident, as it was desired to release the prisoners, except a few of the leaders, and encourage the return of others to peaceful labors."

Fight on for Valuable Lands.

St. Louis, Mo., May 7.—The fight for the valuable lands along the Missouri river front was begun in earnest during the day, when the city secured a temporary injunction restraining the Chicago and Northwestern from laying tracks on the land. The fight will be continued in the courts.

TERRIFIC WIND STORM.

Southern Michigan Experiences Some Severe Weather.

Detroit, May 7.—A terrific wind, accompanied by lightning and heavy rain, passed over Southern Michigan, doing considerable damage. At Delray, where the Solway Process company's works are located, the wind blew down two large traveling cranes operated at the Solway works. The damage is estimated at $15,000.

In Clinton county the storm did about $10,000 worth of damage, blowing down five buildings at Maple Rapids. Charles Bernhart and his son were in the barn when it collapsed. The elder man is thought to be fatally injured.

At Owosso several persons were struck by lightning. Mrs. Charles Wilkinson at Corunna was struck by lightning and it is thought she will die.

TIN PLATE MILL DESTROYED.

Tornado Does Considerable Damage at Newcastle, Pa.

Newcastle, Pa., May 7.—The Chango tin plate works in this city were almost destroyed by a tornado during the day. Every stack was torn from its foundations and hurled through the roof of the buildings, steam pipes were broken and torn away, the roof torn away and the damage done will reach $100,000. A panic ensued among the 2,000 employees of the plant, but no one was injured. The wind was preceded by a period of extreme sultriness, which greatly affected the men at work in the mill. Shortly afterwards the tornado came with a frightful rush and roar. The mill seemed to be the object of its special fury as comparatively little damage was done elsewhere in the city.

CORRIGAN'S FUNERAL.

Services Over the Archbishop's Remains Begin Thursday Night.

New York, May 7.—The arrangements for the funeral of Archbishop Corrigan are being rapidly completed. Mgr. Mooney, vicar general of the diocese, was busy with details up to a late hour. It was finally decided that the body should lie in state in the cathedral until 10:30 o'clock Friday.

The services over the remains will begin Thursday night in the cathedral with the divine office. At 10:30 o'clock Friday morning a solemn high requiem mass will be celebrated. Archbishop Ryan of Philadelphia, a lifelong friend of the deceased bishop, will preach the funeral sermon. Bishop McQuaid of Rochester, will be celebrant.

FRENCH RAILWAY WRECK.

Nine Persons Reported Killed and Many Injured.

Paris, May 7.—A train loaded with Belgian pilgrims, on their way to Lourdes, has been derailed near Moyenneville, between Amiens and Compiègne. The accident occurred when the train was going at full speed. Few details of the mishap have reached here. Doctors and engineers have left Paris for the scene of the accident to render assistance. It is known that nine persons were killed and that many were injured. It is feared that the list of casualties may be greater than the number given.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES.

Former United States Senator William N. Roach of North Dakota is seriously ill at his home in New York city from septic poisoning.

The Republican convention for the Eighteenth Illinois district renominated Joseph Cannon for congress. This is Congressman Cannon's 16th consecutive nomination.

TERRIFIC WIND STORM.

Southern Michigan Experiences Some Severe Weather.

Detroit, May 7.—A terrific wind, accompanied by lightning and heavy rain, passed over Southern Michigan, doing considerable damage. At Delray, where the Solway Process company's works are located, the wind blew down two large traveling cranes operated at the Solway works. The damage is estimated at $15,000.

In Clinton county the storm did about $10,000 worth of damage, blowing down five buildings at Maple Rapids. Charles Bernhart and his son were in the barn when it collapsed. The elder man is thought to be fatally injured.

At Owosso several persons were struck by lightning. Mrs. Charles Wilkinson at Corunna was struck by lightning and it is thought she will die.

TIN PLATE MILL DESTROYED.

Tornado Does Considerable Damage at Newcastle, Pa.

Newcastle, Pa., May 7.—The Chenango tin plate works in this city were almost destroyed by a tornado during the day. Every stack was torn from its foundations and hurled through the roof of the buildings, steam pipes were broken and torn away, the roof torn away and the damage done will reach $100,000. A panic ensued among the 2,000 employees of the plant, but no one was injured. The wind was preceded by a period of extreme sultriness, which greatly affected the men at work in the mill. Shortly afterwards the tornado came with a frightful rush and roar. The mill seemed to be the object of its special fury, as comparatively little damage was done elsewhere in the city.

CORRIGAN'S FUNERAL.

Services Over the Archbishop's Remains Begin Thursday Night.

New York, May 7.—The arrangements for the funeral of Archbishop Corrigan are being rapidly completed. Mgr. Mooney, vicar general of the diocese, was busy with details up to a late hour. It was finally decided that the body should lie in state in the cathedral until 10:30 o'clock Friday.

The services over the remains will begin Thursday night in the cathedral with the divine office. At 10:30 o'clock Friday morning a solemn high requiem mass will be celebrated. Archbishop Ryan of Philadelphia, a lifelong friend of the deceased bishop, will preach the funeral sermon. Bishop McQuaid of Rochester, will be celebrant.

FRENCH RAILWAY WRECK.

Nine Persons Reported Killed and Many Injured.

Paris, May 7.—A train loaded with Belgian pilgrims, on their way to Lourdes, has been derailed near Moyenneville, between Amiens and Compiègne. The accident occurred when the train was going at full speed. Few details of the mishap have reached here. Doctors and engineers have left Paris for the scene of the accident to render assistance. It is known that nine persons were killed and that many were injured. It is feared that the list of casualties may be greater than the number given.

SAFE CRACKERS GETTING BUSY

They do Some Work Around the Office of W. F. Holst the Implement Man.

GET A BIG BUNCH OF NOTES.

There was no Money in the Safe
so that the Prowlers did Not Get Much Booty.

Sometime during the night last night thieves or safe crackers broke into the W. F. Holst warehouse on Front street and made their way into the little office that is situated at the north end of the building. The safe in this office was opened and the small drawers containing some valuable papers were broken open with a large axe.

The warehouse was entered through the main door by the breaking of the lock. Once inside the building the prowlers had easy access to the main office, where the safe was located.

Mr. Holst never locked the safe nights, for he did not keep anything but notes and valuable papers there, papers that would not be of any value to anyone except Mr. Holst. After the safe was opened a large axe was used in breaking the drawers open and they were fairly riddled to pieces. The one drawer where the notes were that were taken was in the middle. This was removed from the bed in the safe and was not opened until after it was taken outside the building, where it was opened with a chisel. The notes were removed and the box thrown into a farmer's buggy near Theviot's saloon.

The notes aggregated $3,000 and it is quite a loss to Mr. Holst, from the fact that when farmers come in to pay up he has nothing to show except a small record which he kept in the office. The police are looking the matter up, but it is not thought that the men will be located, as they covered their tracks pretty well.

BIG AUCTION SALE.

To be Conducted by B. M. Hungerford at
Aitkin on Saturday May 10--
Some Rare Pickups.

Land seekers and business men are watching with interest the date of the big auction sale to be held by B. M. Hungerford at Aitkin on Saturday, May 10, at Aitkin. The property to be closed out under the hammer consists of business lots, residence lots, lake front acreage lots contiguous to the city, park tracts and some excellent farms within one mile of town.

This property is all good and it will pay anyone interested in real estate to look it up. Everyone knows what a pretty little town Aitkin is, and it is known far and near as being one of the progressive towns of the state. There is a demand for business property in the city but they have been hard to secure. Mr. Hungerford now has a fine list to select from and doubtless the sharp real estate manipulator will take advantage of the opportunity presented for next Saturday.

VELLIERS IS BOUND OVER.

Young Man Charged with Burglarizing
The Con O'Brien Store is Held to
The Grand Jury.

This afternoon Lawrence Velliers, the young man arrested in company with A. Rogers, charged with burglarizing the Con O'Brien store a few nights ago, had a hearing before Judge Bewitt in the municipal court.

The young man showed on the stand that he was of a stripe that could not be trusted further than he can be seen. He admitted having served sentences, but would not admit his guilt in this connection.

After the hearing the judge bound him over to the grand jury, fixing bail at $500, which, of course, he could not furnish.

PINE RIVER JOTTINGS.

A wave of prosperity has come to this village in earnest. Land has been bought up in the vicinity in large quantities. Many of the purchases have included a section to each person.

Building in the village is progressing rapidly. A drug store will be built as soon as possible. A bank is talked of, but there is no certainty this far. It would certainly be a paying institution, and it would not be amiss for some capitalist to look into the matter; we are getting tired of burying our money in the cellar in tin cans.

This village is incorporated with a progressive list of officers. Mr. Dames, a wealthy property owner, is mayor, and Holman, of the "Pine Tree Blaze," dispenses justice to the satisfaction of all, a difficult thing to do.

Pine River has a strong ball team. They play the strongest game of ball I have ever seen played outside of the large cities. There is no doubt they would willingly play Brainerd and give them a run for their money. Let's have a game.

TALK OF BUILDING VAULT AT CEMETERY

Annual Meeting of the Evergreen
Cemetery Association Held in Columbian Hall.

SPALDING ELECTED PRESIDENT.

Effort will be Made to Keep the
Grounds in Better Shape
Than Ever Before

Last night a meeting of the Evergreen Cemetery Association was held in Columbian hall, and there was a very good attendance. Several matters of importance were discussed and it being the annual meeting a new set of officers was elected. On account of his age L. P. White was not re-elected president of the association although he was named as honorary president. Mr. White up to last night had been president of the association since it was first organized and has always been interested in its improvement and maintenance.

Resolutions and thanks were voted by the members of the association to him for his services and all wished him good health and many more years of happiness.

The following officers were elected.

President—Henry Spalding.
Sec. and Tres.—C. M. Patek.
Actuary—Sidney Hockridge.
Trustees—Jay A. Batchelder, Robert Sturgeon, J. F. McGinnis, William Erb, and I. T. Dean.

Committee on Grounds—George Bertram, D. Doran and F. W. Dunlap.

Finance Committee—George Bertram, D. Doran and F. W. Dunlap.

It was decided last night to hire an extra man to assist Mr. Hockridge in attending to the keeping of the grounds in order. Mrs. Bivins and Mrs. Treglawny volunteered to defray by subscriptions half of the

A DESIRABLE HOME CHEAP.

I have just secured a very desirable little four-room cottage—east front, with lot 50 x 150, nice trees in front yard, one of the finest wells in the city, place also has city water, and room for a nice garden in rear. Place is located on the north side and also near the shops. I can sell it for $650 and make easy terms. Places of this kind in Brainerd are now about as scarce as hens teeth and the party that gets this one will be lucky.

000 for a court house, at Walker, is being discussed by the taxpayers. It will receive a good majority in these parts all right. The most objection to the bonds for the court house seems to come from Cass Lake country, a wild portion of the northeast part of the county. Cass Lake has an eye on the county seat, if such a thing was possible, to move it from Walker. Of course we don't care. When the county will be divided, Pine River will be the county seat for the south section.

The bids for the building of a bridge across Norway brook, close to town, will be opened today, and work will be commenced immediately. The bridge will cost in the neighborhood of $500.

The Railroad Co., intends putting in about 4000 feet of side track to meet the demands of the increased amount of business since the boom started.

Mr. Dames has built a large dry shed for lumber. A planing mill will be built immediately so builders will not have to send away for material.

LORD KELVIN HONORED.

Receives Degree of Doctor of Laws
From Yale University.

New Haven, Conn., May 6.—William Thompson, first lord of Kelvin, received from Yale university the honorary degree of doctor of laws. The ceremony took place in Battle chapel before a large audience. This was the first time in over 100 years that a special assembly has been held for the conferring of an honorary degree.

Lord Kelvin was escorted into church by President Arthur T. Hadley, followed by members of the university corporation and faculties. The ceremonies were short. After the preliminaries Lord Kelvin was presented for the degree by Professor Russell Henry Chittenden, Ph. D., director of the Sheffield scientific school. President Hadley conferred the degree.

A very important matter that was brought up last night for discussion was the erection of a vault in the cemetery. It has been felt by those interested that this was one of the improvements that was greatly needed and the matter took definite form last night. A committee consisting of Messrs. Doran, Bertram and Dunlap was appointed by the president to go to Duluth to look over the vaults used in that city and to investigate them from the points of style and convenience. The association, it is understood, expects to build a vault this season that will hold no less than 100 bodies.

Mr. and Mrs. Scofield were callers at Katrine.

Mr. Miller will soon start up his mill for the season.

The recent rains have given the fields a verdant luster.

It was the busy bee that got in its work on Scofield's eye.

Mrs. Bath and Mrs. Jefferson called at Katrine Wednesday.

It was the busy Dave mowing raspberries that tore up the epidermis under his left orb.

Mr. DeLaittre, of Farm Island, an old soldier, was buried in the Bay Lake cemetery Friday.

E. E. Reilly, of Brainerd, in the interest of the International Correspondence Schools, of Scranton, Pa., stopped over Sunday at Katrine.

Mrs. George Roberts died very suddenly Thursday. The funeral and interment took place Friday at Bay Lake, Rev. Parish officiating.

Last week a book agent held us up for an hour, and gave us a fine description of a book he possessed and was anxious to get rid of. This book prescribed a diet that would smash any meat trust. It was also in favor of giving the school-boy a chance. It did not believe in working Saturdays.

ECHO.

MUSIC AND DRAMA.

"WAY DOWN EAST" TOMORROW NIGHT.
William A. Brady's "Way Down East" will be presented at the Brainerd Opera House tomorrow night and already there is a good demand for seats.

It crowded the Manhattan theatre for seven months, and the Academy of Music 427 times, and nothing but the dog days of the latter end of June caused its withdrawal. "Way Down East" has duplicated its New York success in Boston and Philadelphia, and its presentation at the Brainerd Opera House is keenly awaited. Manager Wm. A. Brady's experience with this play has been that the public will patronize an adequate representation of wholesome life by skilled players. He has made many elaborate productions in his time, notably the "Polar Star." But this staging he has given to "Way Down East" eclipses it. There is little doubt but that the capacity of the theatre will be tested during the engagement.

Prices: Lower floor, $1. balcony, 75c; gallery, 50c.

"UNCLE TOM'S CABIN."

The date of Stetson's "Uncle Tom's Cabin" has been changed from May 9th to Wednesday, May 14th.

The production far surpasses that of last season in every particular and will be the best seen here. Special attention has been given to the staging of the piece, and several scenic effects are magnificent. The thrilling floating-ice scene on the Ohio river, St. Clair's plantation with house and garden by moonlight and the cottonfields beyond, and the superb transformation scene at the last act are among the greatest.

One of the largest organizations of white and colored artists ever gathered together in one combination has been engaged by Mr. Leon W. Washburn for this season, every one of whom was selected for his or her adaptability for the part assigned. A troupe of colored jubilee singers add materially to the production by a number of high-class specialties. Col. Sawyer's prize pack of genuine Siberian blood-hounds, a lot of beautiful Shetland ponies, trick donkeys, etc., are also with this great combination. The street parade has two bands of music, a number of gorgeous chariots, tableaux wagons and little carriages, built at a large outlay of money, making this the finest free street pageant ever given any similar organization.

"WHEN REUBEN COMES TO TOWN."

Herman Perlet's new musical comedy for which he wrote both the libretto and lyrics, as well as the music, has made a positive sensation wherever it has been seen, and arrangements are now being made for an early opening in New York. The scenery and costumes, the work of P. Dodd Ackerman, the scenic artist and Archie Gunn, respectively, are described as being especially rich, handsome and elaborate.

The company is one of metropolitan excellence, which has much to do with establishing the positive success of this attraction, which will be seen here soon.

Manager Rhoda, of the Royalton team, is gathering a fast bunch of players about him, and they will have a good team.

The local management has signed Sam Englebreton, the fast catcher for the year, which will be good news to the fans in this city. He has had several other offers.

CANCER CURED.

I feel it my duty to let suffering humanity know what the Herbageen Specific Remedies have done us. They have saved the life of my wife. She was afflicted with cancer through the whole system and was given up by doctors and friends as beyond any cure. She was suffering for a long time and got steadily worse, till at last she could hardly bear her surroundings. Then I heard of these wonderful cures and decided we would try them, and after treatment with these for some time she began to get better and is now all right and able to do her housework. I have full confidence in these treatments and recommend them to anyone suffering with cancer or tumor, as curing the same without operation.

The notes aggregated $3,000 and it is quite a loss to Mr. Holst, from the fact that when farmers come in to pay up he has nothing to show except a small record which he kept in the office. The police are looking the matter up, but it is not thought that the men will be located, as they covered their tracks pretty well.

BIG AUCTION SALE.

To be Conducted by B. M. Hungerford at
Aitkin on Saturday May 10--
Some Rare Pickups.

Land seekers and business men are watching with interest the date of the big auction sale to be held by B. M. Hungerford at Aitkin on Saturday, May 10, at Aitkin. The property to be closed out under the hammer consists of business lots, residence lots, lake front acreage lots contiguous to the city, park tracts and some excellent farms within one mile of town.

This property is all good and it will pay anyone interested in real estate to look it up. Everyone knows what a pretty little town Aitkin is, and it is known far and near as being one of the progressive towns of the state. There is a demand for business property in the city but they have been hard to secure. Mr. Hungerford now has a fine list to select from and doubtless the sharp real estate manipulator will take advantage of the opportunity presented for next Saturday.

VELLIERS IS BOUND OVER.

Young Man Charged with Burglarizing
The Con O'Brien Store is Held to
The Grand Jury.

This afternoon Lawrence Velliers, the young man arrested in company with A. Rogers, charged with burglarizing the Con O'Brien store a few nights ago, had a hearing before Judge Bewitt in the municipal court.

The young man showed on the stand that he was of a stripe that could not be trusted further than he can be seen. He admitted having served sentences, but would not admit his guilt in this connection.

After the hearing the judge bound him over to the grand jury, fixing bail at $500, which, of course, he could not furnish.

PINE RIVER JOTTINGS.

A wave of prosperity has come to this village in earnest. Land has been bought up in the vicinity in large quantities. Many of the purchases have included a section to each person.

Building in the village is progressing rapidly. A drug store will be built as soon as possible. A bank is talked of, but there is no certainty this far. It would certainly be a paying institution, and it would not be amiss for some capitalist to look into the matter; we are getting tired of burying our money in the cellar in tin cans.

This village is incorporated with a progressive list of officers. Mr. Dames, a wealthy property owner, is mayor, and Holman, of the "Pine Tree Blaze," dispenses justice to the satisfaction of all, a difficult thing to do.

Pine River has a strong ball team. They play the strongest game of ball I have ever seen played outside of the large cities. There is no doubt they would willingly play Brainerd and give them a run for their money. Let's have a game.

The bonding of the county for $30,000 for roads and bridges, and $30,000 for a court house, at Walker, is being discussed by the taxpayers. It will receive a good majority in these parts all right. The most objection to the bonds for the court house seems to come from Cass Lake country, a wild portion of the northeast part of the county. Cass Lake has an eye on the county seat, if such a thing was possible, to move it from Walker. Of course we don't care. When the county will be divided, Pine River will be the county seat for the south section.

A DESIRABLE HOME CHEAP.

I have just secured a very desirable little four-room cottage—east front, with lot 50 x 150, nice trees in front yard, one of the finest wells in the city, place also has city water, and room for a nice garden in rear. Place is located on the north side and also near the shops. I can sell it for $650 and make easy terms. Places of this kind in Brainerd are now about as scarce as hens teeth and the party that gets this one will be lucky.

The bids for the building of a bridge across Norway brook, close to town, will be opened today, and work will be commenced immediately. The bridge will cost in the neighborhood of $500.

LORD KELVIN HONORED.

Receives Degree of Doctor of Laws
From Yale University.

New Haven, Conn., May 6.—William Thompson, first lord of Kelvin, received from Yale university the honorary degree of doctor of laws. The ceremony took place in Battle chapel before a large audience. This was the first time in over 100 years that a special assembly has been held for the conferring of an honorary degree.

Lord Kelvin was escorted into church by President Arthur T. Hadley, followed by members of the university corporation and faculty. The ceremonies were short. After the preliminaries Lord Kelvin was presented for the degree by Professor Russell Henry Chittenden, Ph. D., director of the Sheffield scientific school. President Hadley conferred the degree.

Annual Meeting of the Evergreen
Cemetery Association Held in
Columbian Hall.

SPALDING ELECTED PRESIDENT.

Effort will be Made to Keep the
Grounds in Better Shape
Than Ever Before

Last night a meeting of the Evergreen Cemetery Association was held in Columbian hall, and there was a very good attendance. Several matters of importance were discussed and it being the annual meeting a new set of officers was elected. On account of his age L. P. White was not re-elected president of the association although he was named as honorary president. Mr. White up to last night had been president of the association since it was first organized and has always been interested in its improvement and maintenance.

Resolutions and thanks were voted by the members of the association to him for his services and all wished him good health and many more years of happiness.

The following officers were elected.

President—Henry Spalding.
Sec. and Treas.—C. M. Patek.
Actuary—Sidney Hockridge.
Trustees—Jay A. Batchelder, Robert Sturgeon, J. F. McGinnis, William Erb, and I. T. Dean.

Committee on Grounds—George Bertram, D. Doran and F. W. Dunlap.

Finance Committee—George Bertram, D. Doran and F. W. Dunlap.

It was decided last night to hire an extra man to assist Mr. Hockridge in attending to the keeping of the grounds in order. Mrs. Byvins and Mrs. Treglown volunteered to defray by subscriptions half of the

amount necessary for that purpose.

A very important matter that was brought up last night for discussion was the erection of a vault in the cemetery. It has been felt by those interested that this was one of the improvements that was greatly needed and the matter took definite form last night. A committee consisting of Messrs. Doran, Bertram and Dunlap was appointed by the president to go to Duluth to look over the vaults used in that city and to investigate them from the points of style and convenience. The association, it is understood, expects to build a vault this season that will hold no less than 100 bodies.

Mr. DeLaitre, of Farm Island, an old soldier, was buried in the Bay Lake cemetery Friday.

E. E. Reilly, of Brainerd, in the interest of the International Correspondence Schools, of Scranton, Pa., stopped over Sunday at Katrine.

Mrs. George Roberts died very suddenly Thursday. The funeral and interment took place Friday at Bay Lake, Rev. Parish officiating.

Last week a book agent held us up for an hour, and gave us a fine description of a book he possessed and was anxious to get rid of. This book prescribed a diet that would smash any meat trust. It was also in favor of giving the school-boy a chance. It did not believe in working Saturdays.

ECHO.

MUSIC AND DRAMA.

"WAY DOWN EAST" TOMORROW NIGHT.

William A. Brady's "Way Down East" will be presented at the Brainerd Opera House tomorrow night and already there is a good demand for seats.

It crowded the Manhattan theatre for seven months, and the Academy of Music 427 times, and nothing but the dog days of the latter end of June caused its withdrawal. "Way Down East" has duplicated its New York success in Boston and Philadelphia, and its presentation at the Brainerd Opera House is keenly awaited. Manager Wm. A. Brady's experience with this play has been that the public will patronize an adequate representation of wholesome life by skilled players. He has made many elaborate productions in his time, notably the "Polar Star." But this staging he has given to "Way Down East" eclipses it. There is little doubt but that the capacity of the theatre will be tested during the engagement.

Prices: Lower floor, $1. balcony, 75c; gallery, 50c.

"UNCLE TOM'S CABIN."

The date of Stetson's "Uncle Tom's Cabin" has been changed from May 9th to Wednesday, May 14th.

The production far surpasses that of last season in every particular and will be the best seen here. Special attention has been given to the staging of the piece, and several scenic effects are magnificent. The thrilling floating-ice scene on the Ohio river, St. Clair's plantation with house and garden by moonlight and the cottonfields beyond, and the superb transformation scene at the last act are among the greatest.

One of the largest organizations of white and colored artists ever gathered together in one combination has been engaged by Mr. Leon W. Washburn for this season, every one of whom was selected for his or her adaptability for the part assigned. A troupe of colored jubilee singers add materially to the production by a number of high-class specialties. Col. Sawyer's prize pack of genuine Siberian blood-hounds, a lot of beautiful Shetland ponies, trick donkeys, etc., are also with this great combination. The street parade has two bands of music, a number of gorgeous chariots, tableaux wagons and little carriages, built at a large outlay of money, making this the finest free street pageant ever given any similar organization.

"WHEN REUBEN COMES TO TOWN."

Herman Perlet's new musical comedy for which he wrote both the libretto and lyrics, as well as the music, has made a positive sensation wherever it has been seen, and arrangements are now being made for an early opening in New York. The scenery and costumes, the work of P. Dodd Ackerman, the scenic artist and Archie Gunn, respectively, are described as being especially rich, handsome and elaborate.

The company is one of metropolitan excellence, which has much to do with establishing the positive success of this attraction, which will be seen here soon.

Manager Rhoda, of the Royalton team, is gathering a fast bunch of players about him, and they will have a good team.

The local management has signed Sam Englebreton, the fast catcher for the year, which will be good news to the fans in this city. He has had several other offers.

CANCER CURED.

I feel it my duty to let suffering humanity know what the Herbaquon Specific Remedies have done for me. They have saved the life of my wife. She was afflicted with cancer through the whole system and was given up by doctors and friends as beyond any cure. She was suffering for a long time and got steadily worse, till at last she could hardly bear her surroundings. Then I heard of these wonderful cures and decided we would try them, and after treatment with them for some time she began to get better and is now all right and able to do her housework. I have full confidence in these treatments and recommend them to anyone suffering with cancer or tumor, as curing the same without operation. JOHN B. PETERSON.

A FIERCE DISCUSSION

PHILIPPINE SITUATION DEBATED AT LENGTH IN THE SENATE.

STARTED BY BEVERIDGE

Indiana Senator Sharply Rebukes the Opposition for Telling Only One Side of the Story—Mr. Turner of Washington Scathingly Denounces General Smith as a Monster in Human Form.

Washington, May 7.—For almost four hours a fierce discussion of the Philippine situation raged in the senate. It was started by Mr. Beveridge of Indiana, who made some sharp strictures on the members of the opposition, because, he said, they persisted in telling in their speeches only one side of the story. While he admitted that some outrages had been committed by American soldiers in the Philippines, it was true, too, that unparalleled kindness had been shown by the American troops to the Filipino prisoners and Filipino wounded. Food and medicine, he said, had been shared with them, and they had been succored on the battlefield and cared for tenderly in the hospitals.

Mr. Carmack and Mr. Rawlins warmly resented any imputation of unfairness. Mr. Rawlins declared that no partisan spirit ever had actuated the opponents of the present Philippine policy, but that they were moved only by patriotism and love of country.

Mr. Turner of Washington delivered a scathing criticism of the methods practiced by the military authorities in the Philippines, dwelling particularly upon the alleged order of General Smith, whom he denounced as a monster in human form. He urged the Philippine committee to turn all the light possible on the Philippine question to the end that the people might be fully informed on the situation.

Mr. Hoar of Massachusetts briefly defended the action of the Philippine committee, saying that already it had furnished much valuable information. He urged that the committee, in all justice should call some prominent Filipinos to testify in their own behalf.

GOES BEYOND THE LAW.

Second Class Privileges Ordered Restored to Certain Publications.

Washington, May 7.—Justice A. C. Bradley, in the supreme court of the District of Columbia, rendered a decision in the injunction case brought by R. W. Haynes and Duane E. Fox as counsel, against Postmaster General Henry S. Payne. The decision was rendered on the demurrer filed by the postmaster general to the complainant's bill for an injunction to prevent the postmaster general from charging the third class rate instead of the second class rate on the complainant's publication known as the Pocket List of Railroad Officials. This was the first injunction brought to determine the power of the postmaster general to charge the higher rate under a department regulation promulgated on July 17, 1901. Under this amended regulation the postmaster general has excluded from the second class rate a very large number of publications, several of which cases are now pending in the supreme court of the District. Justice Bradley also decided two mandamus cases involving The Official Railway Guide and Official List.

The purport of Justice Bradley's decision is that the regulation promulgated by the postmaster general goes beyond the law, and is practically an amendment of the law, which the postmaster general has no power to make. In the mandamus cases the justice ordered writs to issue restoring the second class privilege to the publications involved and in the injunction cases the justice continued the injunction preventing the postmaster general from refusing to carry The Pocket List at the lower rate of postage.

WALL STREET RECOVERS.

Demoralization of the Stock Market Has Disappeared.

New York, May 7.—Wall street has recovered very generally from its demoralization of the previous day. The stock market made all round recoveries, with active trading at the close. Call money, which rose to 20 per cent on Monday, did not advance beyond 12 per cent and closed at 6 per cent.

There was no important developments in the affairs of the three Stock Exchange houses whose suspension followed the collapse in the securities controlled by Dr. Seward Webb and Arthur L. Meyer. The assignees were at work on the books of Henry Bros. & Co. and Lockwood, Hurd & Co. Both said they were unable to give even an approximate estimate of liabilities and assets. It was intimated that assistance would come to both of these concerns.

AGAIN ADJOURNED BY DEATH.

Unprecedented Event in the History of the House of Representatives.

Washington, May 7.—The house adjourned immediately after the reading of the journal, out of respect to the memory of Representative J. D. Salmon of New Jersey. This is the third consecutive legislative day on which the house has paid a similar tribute of respect to one of its deceased members. Never before in its history have three desks been draped at the same time. They are those of Messrs. Cummings, Otey and Salmon.

Five Dead and Three Injured.

Harrisburg, Pa., May 7.—Five men dead and three seriously injured in the record of an accident at the open hearth steel department of the Pennsylvania steel works at Steelton. The disaster was caused by the boiling over of a ladle of hot slag at a furnace, its fiery contents engulfing eight men.

UNCLE SAM WINS OUT

Russia Will Restore Manchuria to China Without Reserve.

SOLVES FAR EASTERN PROBLEM.

Result Is a Triumph For American Diplomacy and "Open Door" Policy—By Terms of New Treaty Russia Will Evacuate Territory Within a Year and Surrender Exclusive Privileges.

International news of the highest importance reached diplomatic Washington the other day. It indicates that the far eastern problem has been solved and that the menace to the world's peace which has so long held like a cloud on the Asiatic horizon has at last been removed. If this shall prove to be the case, and there seems little reason to doubt it, American diplomacy must be given credit for the great work.

The news relates to the terms of the new treaty between Russia and China. Various reports concerning this important compact have been in circulation both in the United States and Europe, but Walter Wellman, the Washington correspondent of the Chicago Record-Herald, is now able to give the salient contents of that document, a full copy of which is expected at Washington in a short time.

First.—Russia agrees to restore the civil administration of Manchuria without reserve to the Chinese empire.

Second.—Russia agrees to evacuate Manchuria completely, so far as military or civil control is concerned, within one year from the date of the treaty.

Third.—Russia agrees to remove her army, with a reservation of a small force for guarding the Russian railway, within one year, withdrawing a part of the troops in four months, another part in eight months and the final quota in twelve months.

Fourth.—Russia surrenders all claim to exclusive railway and mining privileges in Manchuria and pledges herself and China to the "open door" principle in that province.

The meaning of this is that Russia surrenders Manchuria and turns the whole province back to China. It has no other meaning in the eyes of the foreign office. This also is the view expressed by the Russian government and by Russian ambassadors in various capitals. The honor of the Russian government is pledged to this evacuation. And when the evacuation is accomplished and Manchuria has been turned over to the full sovereignty of the Chinese empire, as every one has a right to expect it will be according to the terms of the solemn agreement, the far eastern problem may be regarded as well nigh solved.

It was Russia's persistent occupation of Manchuria that threatened the peace of the world, for Manchuria was the key to the whole Chinese situation. As long as Russia held that province in the grip of 90,000 soldiers, as long as Russia held not only military sway, but administered the civil government, the integrity of the Chinese empire was threatened. If Russia could thus seize and hold Manchuria, Korea was not safe from a similar acquisition nor north China itself. Hence the agreement of Russia to surrender the province and withdraw her troops is taken throughout the world as a sign of peace, as an earnest that Muscovite ambition to overrun the most of eastern Asia and master the Chinese empire has at last been abandoned, temporarily if not permanently.

"You should be very proud of your foreign office," said Count Cassini, the Russian ambassador to Washington, a few days ago, speaking to an American gentleman who called at the embassy. "Secretary Hay has done more than any other living man to solve the eastern problem. All the powers have now adopted his platform for the integrity of the Chinese empire and the 'open door'."

Praise from Count Cassini is praise indeed. But other diplomatists echo it. They point out that it was Secretary Hay who injected into the controversy over China's future the moral idea which has proved to be the key to the whole complicated problem. This he did in October, 1899, when the world first learned that the principle of the open door had been proclaimed by the American government. That principle the United States has stuck to through all the changes and complications of the ensuing years.

Since then China has passed through the throes of a revolution which for a time threatened the success of the American policy. Now and then appearances indicated that the cause was lost and that greed and spoliation would supplant the doctrine of equal rights for the nations in the Chinese empire. Germany has played a fast and loose game, and France has consistently supported Russia. Great Britain seemed hopelessly involved elsewhere. Japan was not big enough to stem the tide alone. Ridicule was heaped upon the open door programme. It was everywhere predicted that in China's revolutionary turmoil Russia would find the opportunity not only to hold Manchuria, but to advance, step by step, to greater conquests.

But there is tremendous power in a moral principle when it is constantly pushed to the front by an able statesman speaking for a nation like the United States. This is what Mr. Hay did. He did it not theatrically, not with bluster, but with tact and caution and always with persistence. As it was Russia's policy to creep with stealthy force and a combination of soldiery and railways over the coveted territory, so it was Mr. Hay's policy to ever hold that moral principle up as a warning of "No thoroughfare."

Step by step he secured pledges, sincere and meaningless perhaps at first, but serving as foundations to more valuable promises to be secured later. Thus he built up his fabric, securing the half hearted co-operation of some powers, the sincere support of others. But every expression of assent strengthened the case. Every new pledge on Russia's part, with whatever degree of good faith given, made it the more difficult to repudiate the underlying principle. Through the occupation of Peking by the allied troops and the long negotiations which followed the fate of China and of the American policy trembled in the balance. But firmness on the part of the United States government and the support of Great Britain and Japan found a way through that crisis.

Early in the present year a second crisis was reached. Russia was seeking a firmer hold on Manchuria, indicative of a more aggressive policy as to the whole problem. A new treaty with China was under consideration, a treaty which if concluded would place in Russian hands absolute control of all railway, mining and commercial privileges of the province. At this juncture Secretary Hay came forward with his memorable note of Feb. 1. He defined the attitude of the United States with almost startling diplomatic frankness. He declared that an agreement "whereby China gave any corporation or company, a Russian device, the exclusive privilege of opening mines, establishing railroads or in any other way industrially developing Manchuria can but be viewed with the gravest concern by the government of the United States."

He added that such an agreement constituted a monopoly, "which is a distinct breach of the stipulation of the treaties between China and the foreign powers." He called the attention of the Russian government to the repeated pledges which it had given and closed with an expression of the hope that the governments of China and Russia would take such measures as would "relieve the just and natural anxiety of the United States."

This note produced a profound impression throughout the world. It was an application of the principle of equal rights and equal opportunity in a way so clear and unmistakable that it compelled attention.

Soon there followed a third crisis. The United States had supplied the principle. Now Great Britain and Japan concluded an alliance which pledged to this principle a support almost threatening in its aspect. In plain language the allies threatened war if Russia did not give up her pretensions to Korea. Still Russia did not yield. She turned to the other powers to ascertain their attitude in case of hostilities. France, as usual, was pliant. Germany was looking out for German interests and stood ready to profit by any upheaval, to demand a price for any inaction that might be requested of her. But what would the United States do in the struggle? Would the American government give material aid to the allied powers which stood for the American principle?

Almost every day Count Cassini, the astute Russian ambassador, was at the state department. Tactfully, with diplomatic euphemisms, he pressed his inquiries. It is quite probable that the issue of peace or war hung upon the answer. If the United States was willing to declare its intention to pursue the traditional American policy and avoid all entanglements in the other world, Russia would have felt free to pursue her way in the far east even at the risk of war. With the United States surely out she could, with her allies, France and Germany probably, face the antagonistic alliance.

But the answer of the United States was that it could give no pledges. Following its usual policy, this government declined to say what it would or would not do in a given emergency. It would be guided by self interest. It would watch events with great eagerness. When emergencies arose, it would meet them as in its judgment seemed best. Unable to reckon upon the probable course of the United States, Russia felt constrained to adopt a conservative course. She could not defy the world. The new treaty with China, which amounts to a surrender on the part of Russia, quickly followed.

There is little reason to doubt that, for the present at least, peace in the far east has been secured, and the United States is entitled to the credit of it. Appearances indicate that Russia's change of policy is sincere and permanent. The new Russian policy is commercial rather than political and military.

Incredulosity as to Russia's sincerity in her agreement to surrender political control of Manchuria is rife. It must be admitted. Many diplomats are utterly unable to believe the treaty will be honored in anything more than a nominal way. But such is the treaty, such are the obligations and such is the situation with which the Russian government is confronted. All the indications are that so far as this decade at least is concerned Russia's advance has been stopped, and the moral principle raised by the United States has proved stronger than an old world policy of selfishness. The European powers are not only standing on the platform of Secretary Hay, but they are using his language in the expression of their purposes and in the declaration of their adherence to the "open door" principle of equal rights and equal opportunities.

DELAWARE'S COMMANDO.

Considerable Opposition to Peace Reported Among Them.

Pretoria, May 7.—The peace situation is developing encouragingly. According to reliable information which has reached here several of the nearer commandoes have received the burgher delegates in an amicable spirit. It is understood that Commandant Beyers has announced his willingness to abide by the decision reached by the Transvaal government. Considerable opposition to the peace movement, however, is developing among the irreconcilables of General Delarey's force.

PHILIPPINE SITUATION DEBATED AT LENGTH IN THE SENATE.

STARTED BY BEVERIDGE

Indiana Senator Sharply Rebukes the Opposition for Telling Only One Side of the Story—Mr. Turner of Washington Scathingly Denounces
General Smith as a Monster in Human Form.

Washington, May 7.—For almost four hours a fierce discussion of the Philippine situation raged in the senate. It was started by Mr. Beveridge
of Indiana, who made some sharp stric-
tures on the members of the opposition, because, he said, they persisted
in telling in their speeches only one side of the story. While he admitted that some outrages had been committed by American soldiers in the Philippines, it was true, too, that unparalleled kindness had been shown by the American troops to the Filipino prisoners and Filipino wounded. Food and medicine, he said, had been shared
with them, and they had been succored
on the battlefield and cared for tenderly in the hospitals.

Mr. Carmack and Mr. Rawlins warmly resented any imputation of unfairness. Mr. Rawlins declared that no partisan spirit ever had actuated the opponents of the present Philippine policy, but that they were moved only
by patriotism and love of country.

Mr. Turner of Washington delivered a scathing criticism of the methods practiced by the military authorities in the Philippines, dwelling particularly upon the alleged order of General Smith, whom he denounced as a monster in human form. He urged the Philippine committee to turn all the light possible on the Philippine question to the end that the people
might be fully informed on the situation.

Mr. Hoar of Massachusetts briefly defended the action of the Philippine committee, saying that already it had
furnished much valuable information.
He urged that the committee, in all
justice should call some prominent Filipinos to testify in their own behalf.

GOES BEYOND THE LAW.

Second Class Privileges Ordered Restored to Certain Publications.

Washington, May 7.—Justice A. C.
Bradley, in the supreme court of the District of Columbia, rendered a decision in the injunction case brought
by R. W. Haynes and Duane E. Fox,
as counsel, against Postmaster General Henry S. Payne. The decision was rendered on the demurrer filed
by the postmaster general to the complainant's bill for an injunction to prevent the postmaster general from charging the third class rate instead of the second class rate on the complainant's publication known as the Pocket List of Railroad Officials. This was the first injunction brought to determine the power of the postmaster general to charge the higher rate under
a department regulation promulgated on July 17, 1901. Under this amended regulation the postmaster general has
excluded from the second class rate a very large number of publications,
several of which cases are now pending in the supreme court of the District. Justice Bradley also decided two mandamus cases involving The Official Railway Guide and Official List.

The purport of Justice Bradley's
decision is that the regulation promulgated by the postmaster general goes beyond the law, and is practically an amendment of the law, which the postmaster general has no power to make.
In the mandamus cases the justice
ordered writs to issue restoring the second class privilege to the publications involved and in the injunction
cases the justice continued the injunction preventing the postmaster
general from refusing to carry The Pocket List at the lower rate of postage.

WALL STREET RECOVERS.

Demoralization of the Stock Market
Has Disappeared.

New York, May 7.—Wall street has recovered very generally from its demoralization of the previous day. The stock market made all round recover-
ies, with active trading at the close.
Call money, which rose to 20 per cent
on Monday, did not advance beyond 12
per cent and closed at 6 per cent.

There was no important developments in the affairs of the three Stock Exchange houses whose suspension
followed the collapse in the securities controlled by Dr. Seward Webb and Arthur L. Meyer. The assignees were at work on the books of Henry Bros. &
Co. and Lockwood, Hurd & Co. Both said they were unable to give
even an approximate estimate of liabilities and assets. It was intimated that assistance would come to both of these concerns.

AGAIN ADJOURNED BY DEATH.

Unprecedented Event in the History of the House of Representatives.

Washington, May 7.—The house ad-
journing immediately after the reading of the journal, out of respect to the memory of Representative J. D. Salmon of New Jersey. This is the third consecutive legislative day on which
the house has paid a similar tribute
of respect to one of its deceased members. Never before in its history have three desks been draped at the same time. They are those of Messrs. Cummings, Otey and Salmon.

Five Dead and Three Injured.

Harriaburg, Pa., May 7.—Five men
dead and three seriously injured is
the record of an accident at the open hearth steel works at Steelton. The disaster was caused by the boiling
over of a ladle of hot slag at a furnace,
its fiery contents engulfing eight men.

UNCLE SAM WINS OUT

Russia Will Restore Manchuria
to China Without Reserve.

SOLVES FAR EASTERN PROBLEM.

Result is a Triumph For American Diplomacy and "Open Door" Policy—By Terms of New Treaty Russia Will Evacuate Territory With-
in a Year and Surrender Exclusive Privileges.

International news of the highest importance reached diplomatic Washington the other day. It indicates that the far eastern problem has been solved
and that the menace to the world's peace which has so long held like a cloud on the Asiatic horizon has at last been removed. If this shall prove to be the case, and there seems little reason to doubt it, American diplomacy must be given credit for the great work.

The news relates to the terms of the new treaty between Russia and China.
Various reports concerning this important compact have been in circulation
both in the United States and Europe,
but Walter Wellman, the Washington
correspondent of the Chicago Record-Herald, is now able to give the salient
contents of that document, a full copy
of which is expected at Washington in a short time.

First.—Russia agrees to restore the civil
administration of Manchuria without reserve to the Chinese empire.

Second.—Russia agrees to evacuate Manchuria completely, so far as military
or civil control is concerned, within one year from the date of the treaty.

Third.—Russia agrees to remove her
army, with a reservation of a small force
for guarding the Russian railway, within one year, withdrawing a part of the troops in four months, another part in eight months and the final quota in twelve months.

Fourth.—Russia surrenders all claim to exclusive railway and mining privileges in Manchuria and pledges herself and China
to the "open door" principle in that province.

The meaning of this is that Russia
surrenders Manchuria and turns the whole province back to China. It has no other meaning in the eyes of the foreign office. This also is the view expressed by the Russian government
and by Russian ambassadors in various capitals. The honor of the Russian government is pledged to this evacuation. And when the evacuation is accomplished and Manchuria has been turned over to the full sovereignty of the Chinese empire, as every one has a right to expect it will be according to the terms of the solemn agreement, the far eastern problem may be regarded as well nigh solved.

It was Russia's persistent occupation
of Manchuria that threatened the peace
of the world, for Manchuria was the key to the whole Chinese situation. As long as Russia held that province in the grip of 90,000 soldiers, as long as Russia held not only military sway,
but administered the civil government,
the integrity of the Chinese empire was threatened. If Russia could thus seize and hold Manchuria, Korea was not safe from a similar acquisition nor north China itself. Hence the agreement of Russia to surrender the province and withdraw her troops is taken throughout the world as a sign of peace, as an earnest that Moscowite
ambition to overrun the most of eastern Asia and master the Chinese empire has at last been abandoned, temporarily if not permanently.

"You should be very proud of your foreign office," said Count Cassini, the Russian ambassador to Washington, a few days ago, speaking to an American gentleman who called at the embassy. "Secretary Hay has done more than any other living man to solve the eastern problem.
All the powers have now adopted his platform for the integrity of the Chinese empire and the 'open door.'"

Praise from Count Cassini is praise
indeed. But other diplomats echo it.
They point out that it was Secretary
Hay who injected into the controversy
over China's future the moral idea
which has proved to be the key to the whole complicated problem. This he did in October, 1899, when the world
first learned that the principle of the open door had been proclaimed by the American government. That principle
the United States has stuck to through all the changes and complications of
the ensuing years.

Since then China has passed through the throes of a revolution which for a time threatened the success of the American policy. Now and then appearances indicated that the cause was lost and that greed and spoliation
would supplant the doctrine of equal rights for the nations in the Chinese empire. Germany has played a fast
and loose game, and France has consistently supported Russia. Great Britain seemed hopelessly involved elsewhere. Japan was not big enough to stem the tide alone. Ridicule was heaped upon the open door programme. It was everywhere predicted that in China's revolutionary turmoil Russia
would find the opportunity not only to hold Manchuria, but to advance, step
by step, to greater conquests.

But there is tremendous power in a moral principle when it is constantly
pushed to the front by an able statesman speaking for a nation like the United States. This is what Mr. Hay
did. He did it not theoretically, not with bluster, but with tact and caution and always with persistence. As it was Russia's policy to creep with stealthily force and a combination of soldiers and railways over the coveted territory, so it was Mr. Hay's policy to ever hold that moral principle up as a warning of "No thoroughfare."

Step by step he secured pledges, insincere and meaningless perhaps at first, but serving as foundations for more valuable promises to be secured
later. Thus he built up his fabric, securing the half hearted co-operation of some powers, the sincere support of others. But every expression of assent strengthened the case. Every new pledge on Russia's part, with whatever degree of good faith given, made it the more difficult to repudiate the underlying principle. Through the occupation of Peking by the allied troops and the long negotiations which followed the fate of China and of the American policy trembled in the balance. But firmness on the part of the United States government and the support of Great Britain and Japan found a way

through that crisis.

Early in the present year a second crisis was reached. Russia was seeking a firmer hold on Manchuria, indicative of a more aggressive policy as to the whole problem. A new treaty
with China was under consideration,
a treaty which if concluded would place
in Russian hands absolute control of all railway, mining and commercial privileges of the province. At this juncture Secretary Hay came forward
with his memorable note of Feb. 1.
He defined the attitude of the United States with almost startling diplomatic frankness. He declared that an agreement "whereby China gave any corporation or company, a Russian device,
the exclusive privilege of opening
mines, establishing railroads or in any other way industrially developing Manchuria can but be viewed with the gravest
concern by the government of the United States."

He added that such an agreement
constituted a monopoly, "which is a distinct breach of the stipulation of
the treaties between China and the foreign powers." He called the attention of the Russian government to the repeated pledges which it had given and closed with an expression of the hope that the governments of China and Russia would take such measures as would "relieve the just and natural
anxiety of the United States."

This note produced a profound impression throughout the world. It was an application of the principle of equal rights and equal opportunity in a way
so clear and unmistakable that it compelled attention.

Soon there followed a third crisis.
The United States had supplied the principle. Now Great Britain and Japan concluded an alliance which pledged to this principle a support almost threatening in its aspect. In plain language the allies threatened war if Russia did not give up her pretensions to Korea. Still Russia did not yield. She turned to the other powers to ascertain
their attitude in case of hostilities.
France, as usual, was pliant. Germany
was looking out for German interests
and stood ready to profit by any upheaval, to demand a price for any inaction that might be requested of her.
But what would the United States do?
Would the United States take any part in the struggle? Would the American government give material aid to the allied powers which stood for the American principle?

Almost every day Count Cassini, the astute Russian ambassador, was at the state department. Tactfully, with diplomatic euphemisms, he pressed his inquiries. It is quite probable that the issue of peace or war hung upon the answer. If the United States was willing to declare its intention to pursue the traditional American policy and avoid all entanglements in the other world, Russia would have felt free to pursue her way in the far east even at the risk of war. With the United States surely out she could, with her allies, France and Germany probably,
face the antagonistic alliance.

But the answer of the United States
was that it could give no pledges. Following its usual policy, this government declined to say what it would or would not do in a given emergency. It would watch events with great eagerness. When emergencies arose, it would meet them as in its judgment seemed best. Unable to reckon upon the probable course of the United States, Russia felt constrained to adopt a conservative course. She could not defy the world. The new treaty with China, which amounts to a surrender
on the part of Russia, quickly followed.

There is little reason to doubt that,
for the present at least, peace in the far east has been secured, and the United States is entitled to the credit
of it. Appearances indicate that Russia's change of policy is sincere and permanent. The new Russian policy is commercial rather than political and military.

Incredulousness as to Russia's sincerity in her agreement to surrender
political control of Manchuria is rife.
It must be admitted. Many diplomats are utterly unable to believe the treaty will be honored in anything more than a nominal way. But such is the treaty, such are the obligations
and such is the situation with which
the Russian government is confronted.
All the indications are that so far as
this decade at least is concerned Russia's advance has been stopped, and the moral principle raised by the United States has proved stronger than an old world policy of selfishness. The European powers are not only standing on the platform of Secretary Hay, but they are using his language in the expression of their purposes and in the declaration of their adhesion to the
"open door" principle of equal rights
and equal opportunities.

DELAKEY'S COMMANDO.

Considerable Opposition to Peace Reported Among Them.

Pretoria, May 7.—The peace situation is developing encouragingly. According to reliable information which has reached here several of the nearer commandos have received the bur-
gher delegates in an amicable spirit.
It is understood that Commandant Beyers has announced his willingness to abide by the decision reached by the Transvaal government. Considerable opposition to the peace movement,
however, is developing among the inreconcilables of General Delarey's
force.

IT CURED ME OF CATARRH

LOS ANGELES, CAL., Feb. 27, 1900.
MEDERINE REMEDY CO.,
West Superior, Wis.

Gentlemen—I take great pleasure in telling
you that MEDERINE cured me of Catarrh of the worst kind. I tried various remedies, but they did me no good. Finally I bought a bottle of MEDERINE. It gave such prompt relief that I took a full course of six bottles, and I am now cured. It is surely a wonderful remedy.
